Clan Territory for Soundwavesfortruth

This is what we had in stock, we gave you two choices. These are the best we could find and we hope you enjoy!

The clan lives in on an island, palm trees are around every corner and sand lines each shore. The water surrounding them has become a sacred ground, the cats are only allowed to drink from the water, this is it. They live off the side of a mainland, but not far. There is a two-leg bridge that is abandoned that attaches them to this land. The Great Tree is in the middle of this, it stands high above the others and many cats have died from trying to climb it. The tide pool lies in a sand dune deep in their territory. Their camp resides far east.

We also had,

The clan lives on a beach, it's sandy shore connected to a very stormy sea. They have palm trees only in some places, typically on the outskirts of their territory. The Great Tree is a giant palm tree that resides off to the side, resembling their border. The tide pool is an area where the water currents are heavier than usual, it is also seen as an important place to visit every night. The clan has a herb patch outside of their clan's camp where all the herbs grow. There are Green-Leaf Two-Leg dens outside of the territory, very near them. There is a Thunderpath as a border.

Please tell us if you need anything changed!

Name for The_Warrior_Writer

Here are some we have in stock and if you don't like any of them, I can maybe search around for some more ~Swift

Ice
This name represents her silver fur and "icy" blue eyes

Cloud
This name represents the night she was born and how the clouds littered the sky

Penguin
This might sound kind of weird, but it makes sense in my mind. Penguins are in the bird group, but unlike their fellow birds, they cannot fly. She lives in a group of cats but unlike her fellow cats, she cannot fly.

I hope one of these works for you and if not, I'll dig around for some more.

Omen for MaX-Meow

Here is an omen we had it stock, @MaX-Meow . If you have any problems or are not satisfied by the quality of the product, we will ship out a new one IMMEDIATELY.

A gust of wind enters the Medicine Cat den through gaps in the tightly woven bramble walls. The breeze blows a singular mint leaf away from a stack of herbs that the Medicine Cat had sorted. The leaf is carried to the entrance of the Medicine Cat den, and lingers there for brief seconds. The mint is then picked up again by the same gust of wind, and this time it is blown across camp to the entrance of the Leader's den.

The path that the mint leaf takes indicates that Mintpaw will train diligently as a Medicine Cat before the paws of fate take her to the Leader's position, where she will be needed to protect the Clan from great peril.

Note From The Team

We've recently been seeing a lot of Warriors shops going around, and people crediting us for the idea...

We thank you for the credit, but it does slightly annoy us to see all the shops with all the same things, being honest.

We can't say anything because it's not an original idea or anything...just making a note of it because in all the shops, there are the same ideas. Book covers, prophecies, and such, but if you happen to be "inspired" by us, please do not include clan territories, as that is one of our own things that kind of set us apart from other shops.

Please understand that we are not trying to be rude, and we are not asking you to take down your shop. We just kindly ask you, if you were "inspired" by us, to not use the exact same items we have.

Thank you,
The Century Team

Names for The_Warrior_Writer

Here are some names I found for each cat. If none of them work I'll gladly search around for some more.

Swift

Names for the bright she-cat :

Fire
Fire is warm looking in the middle (her fur) but then gets redder (her wings)

Spark
Sparks can be light (fur) or red (wings) and they play and dance in the sky, like her

Blaze
Fur and wings but has that "blaze" of fury to protect her wingless sister

Names for the dark gray she-cat :

Pebble
Not being biased here cause of my user but pebbles are small and gray, like her. Pebbles also protect the shore of beaches like she protects her sister

Night
Dark fur, dark wings, born at night

Storm
Her fury to protect her sister is like a storm. Also her dark pelt.

I hoped you found some you like and if not I'll gladly dig around for some more!

Clan Territory for WolfPackAlfa

This is what we had in stock, we gave you two choices. These are the best we could find and we hope you enjoy!

BirdClan lives in a shadowed forest with a marsh forest floor and ferns around every corner. Their trees are mainly oak, the largest trees, The Great Oak, lives at the side of this all. It is the largest oak, and many cats have died from it. There are also large pine trees that enclose the borders of them, hiding BirdClan away from predators. They have mostly birds as prey. Their camp is located at the middle of their territory, where anything can be sensed.

We also had,

BirdClan lives in a small, non hooded forest. Their ground is mostly a plain with trees only surrounding the border. There are some trees scarred about, but that is it. The Great Oak is in the middle, as the largest tree. BirdClan's herbs grow off to the west, where they were planted many moons ago. BirdClan's camp is off to the back of the territory, where it is hard to track them.

Please tell us if you need anything changed!

Morning🌟

Clan Name for The_Warrior Writer

This is what we had in stock, we gave you three choices. These are the best we could find and we hope you enjoy!

Tribe of Celestial Moons
This refers to their heavenly wings, (as Celestial means "heavenly") and the Moons shows their closed off personalities towards outsiders.

We also had,

Tribe of Feathering Aileron
This refers to their wings. Aileron is another word for wings, and wings have feathers. That basically explains it.

We also had,

Tribe of Misty Seedlings
This refers to their territory. Misty Seedlings is how their trees close them off, making it mysterious, like mist.

Please tell us if you need anything changed!

At half-moon, the medicine cats from respective Clans meet. Mintpaw was present during the gathering.

It was leaf-bare, cold and harsh. The medicine cats nearly froze to death, but managed to keep one another warm by cuddling tightly together.

Mintpaw, however, was hovering over a mint leaf, protecting it from the snowstorm. The mint leaf stayed strong, resisting the gust of wind that tries to damage it.

The medicine cats recognised this as an omen that Mintpaw must become leader, to protect the Clans - represented by the mint - from a looming danger - represented by the snowstorm.

She later realised it was a swallow. The swallow was twisted in an odd angle, dead. A flower fluttered down from the tree above her and landed perfectly on the swallow carcass.

The flower left claw-like marks on the swallow, surprising Swallowfeather. She recognised it as an omen of impending doom.

Leading a Clan is a tremendous task, which is precisely why leaders of each Clan are granted nine lives - so they can serve the Clan longer.

At a gathering, Frozenpaw, a ShadowClan apprentice, noticed WindClan's shortage of prey. Smokepaw, a WindClan apprentice, agreed to meet Frozenpaw at the borders, plotting to unite all the Clans.

However, the Clans have no intentions of merging, and have their own plans to save themselves.

As the apprentices struggled to get a grip on the situation, their plan started dissolving into chaos. Their actions will cause almost anything possible, so what will they do? It is their last chance to make things right.

Can they fulfil their goals, or will they crumble in their heavy ambitions?

Omen:

As Smokepaw, Leafpaw, and Silverpaw hunted in the forest to catch some prey, they sighted silvery smoke rising from some leaves.

They rushed to see if there was a fire burning, but there was none. Instead, a raven of deep black was perched atop a tree branch, looking down on the smoke.

The smoke seemed to calm the raven, allowing the apprentices to realise what they must do.

Blackberry was out of camp, searching for herbs. Suddenly, dark clouds covered the sun and powerful gusts of wind hit him. A large shadow loomed over the tom, and he knew a storm was brewing.

He started running back to camp, but tripped over a pine branch and landed face-first in front of a hazelnut.

Suddenly, a bolt of lightning struck in front of him, startling him. His eyes were stretched wide in shock when he realised the lightning missed him just by a little, and had struck the hazelnut instead.

Blackberry then saw bolts of dark, shadowy lightning striking several trees, but none of them set on fire. He realised that it was an omen from StarClan.

Pelt Color For Ashenleap

Here's a few pelt colors that we had in stock. If you are not satisfied with it, please let me know. Sorry for the wait - Raven =^.^=

- Pale gray she cat with darker flecks, a white hind leg and deep blue eyes

"Ashen" means pale hence the pale gray color of her pelt. I added the flecks so it wouldn't just be a boring pale gray pelt and the "leap" in her name is represented by her white leg.

- Long legged, gray tabby she cat with pale gray underbelly, paws, tail tip and light gray eyes

The pale gray pelt represents the "Ashen" and the "leap" is represented by her long legs

Pelt Color For Wolves-4-Life

Sorry for the delay! Here's what we had in stock

- Raven =^.^=

Timberflight:

- Long furred, dark brown tom with black tabby stripes, a light brown underbelly and black ear tips

I picked the dark and light brown for it to resemble the "Timber" in his name. And the black ear tips emphasize the sharp ear tips. I think this matches his menacing look.

- Long furred, brown tom with darker tabby spots and black paws

Similar to the first one, the brown comes from the "Timber" and "flight" from his black paws. I assume he's a quick runner or good jumper.

Swiftrunner:

- Black she cat with long white legs and muzzle.

- Light gray tabby she cat with pale stripes on her tail and white paws

- Dark gray she cat with black tabby stripes (or spots) and a white underbelly

These were a bit random. When I see "Swift" in a name, I think of black or gray pelt so that's where those came from. And with "Runner" I just think of either distinctive paws or tail.

If you were not satisfied with at least one of these, please let me and I'll see what else is available.

The medicine cat was arranging some herbs when he/she discovered a lily flower with black splotches, and is strangely amber inwards. When the medicine cat touched the lily, it immediately started rotting, with red liquid seeping out of it like blood.

A quick breeze whirled around the lily and carried it out of the medicine cat den, leaving the medicine cat stunned.

While Mosspaw and Mousepounce were out to gather more herbs, they came across a large beetle nest. Among the black beetles, there was one exceptionally large one.

They were climbing up a tree in front of them, all the way to the top. Suddenly, the smaller beetles started falling off one by one as a strong breeze blew by, leaving the largest beetle hanging by a branch.

The two medicine cats realised that BranchClan was falling apart, as more and more cats disappear and die.

Important Notice

I've decided to start this up again to get the activity going on Century. To do so, I will be ignoring all requests previously commented. Before you start questioning what I'm doing, I shall explain.

I intend to clean the comment section up so that it'll be easier to keep track of what is commented. I'll comment something like "Request below the comment. Any comments above this one will be ignored."

However, I won't be opening requests for everything as I can't do everything on my own. Look carefully before you decide to comment, for if you comment on an unavailable product, it will be ignored and deleted.

Hopefully this will be able to help me get this shop running better. Thank you for those who have stuck around all this time with us.

Poppystem was in the medicine cat den, pacing around restlessly, seeming to have a lot on his mind. He decided to go out by the river to get some fresh air.

While drinking water, he heard a loud splash beside him, and noticed that an old, frail quail had plunged into the river, thrashing about helplessly as it got swept away by the current.

At first, Poppystem chose the ignore it, but the one of the quail's feathers drifted past him, causing him to shift his attention towards it. With horror, he watched as the quail feather got ripped into shred as it scratched above rocks.

He figured that it must be an omen from TwilightClan, their warrior ancestors, and concluded that it meant that Quailsplash, the deputy of BlizzardClan, must step down.

One day, Cherrybelly was in a hunting patrol, along with Amberlight and two other warriors. She thinks back about CloudClan, the rogue 'Clan' that came to SkyClan's territory a few days ago.

While she was deep in thought, she did not notice a cherry branch in front of her, and accidentally scraped her paw on it. Amberlight helped Cherrybelly remove the splinters, commenting that she did not see the branch as well, and asking the other two cats to go on ahead without them.

A single raindrop fell onto Cherrybelly's bloodied paw, making her look up. She noticed a cloud in particular, as it was greyer than any other cloud, and so distorted, it hurt to look at it.

Cherrybelly and Amberlight exchanged glances with each other, realising sparking in their eyes. They had to drive CloudClan out.

The medicine cat was carrying out his/her daily routine when suddenly, a magpie attacked him/her. It was squawking loudly and pecking relentlessly.

A piece of rye fell from the magpie's beak, and split into three while it fell and got slashed by the magpie during the struggle.

After the medicine cat killed the magpie, he/she noticed that inside the magpie's beak held the leaves of myrtle, rowan, and wisteria.
